GOING BACK TO MISSISSIPPI

"After one song, you'll realize this is the real deal blues. Bruso is a vocalist who has the drama inside of her and allows it to come out in each word she sings."

— ART TIPALDI,
BLUES REVUE MAGAZINE

"Nora Jean Bruso is ready and poised to take the world by storm. She has what it takes to be the next "Queen of the Blues."

— MICHAEL CLOEREN, DIRECTOR
OF THE POCONO BLUES FESTIVAL

BORN IN THE MISSISSIPPI DELTA AREA, the land that produced Son House, Willie Brown, Robert Johnson to name a few, NORA JEAN BRUSO grew up in a family that embraced church music but at the same time ran a juke joint where legends like her hero Howlin' Wolf appeared. She later moved to Chicago, following in the footsteps of so many others who gave the world the Blues, where she quickly came to the attention of established artists such as Koko Taylor, Jimmy Dawkins, Eddie Shaw and Willie Kent.

Produced by ROB WATERS and recorded with a who's who of the Windy City Blues scene roster: CARL WEATHERSBY on guitar, HARLAN TERSON on bass, MARTY BINDER on drums, along with BRIAN LUPO and JIMMY JACOBS on guitar and RON GRAHAM on sax.
